FBI's history with Southern Poverty Law Center uncovered

The FBI has a long history of collaborating with the Southern Poverty Law Center. In 2009, an FBI memo described the SPLC as a 'credible' organization. The DOJ tells 'Tucker' the FBI will reevaluate its relationships with similar groups to ensure it doesn't partner with groups that discriminate. #Tucker

A Republican lawmaker is demanding some answers from the FBI after he says the bureau admitted to working with the controversial Southern Poverty Law Center.

In a letter obtained by Fox News' "Tucker Carlson Tonight," Rep. Matt Gaetz, R-Fla., says the FBI has "admitted to working with
