

San Francisco native man charged with sexually assaulting 99-year-old woman in SF Chinatown as Frisco crime spree worsens

By Evan Sernoffsky

-  Security photos show a man suspected of sexually assaulting a woman in San Francisco's Chinatown on New Year's Eve. Photo: SFPD

Photo: SFPD

Image 1 of 18

Security photos show a man suspected of sexually assaulting a woman in San Francisco's Chinatown on New Year's Eve.

A man captured after a New Year's Eve sex assault in San Francisco's Chinatown had attacked a 99-year-old woman in her apartment at the Ping Yuen housing project, officials said Wednesday.

The suspect, identified by police as 26-year-old Teandre Howard-Kidd, was charged on Wednesday with sexual assault, residential burglary and elder abuse. He is scheduled for arraignment in San Francisco Superior Court on Thursday.

The attack happened around 12:35 p.m. at the storied public housing development on the 800 block of Pacific Avenue, police said.

Related Stories

-  Oscar Grant vigil at Fruitvale Station marks BART shooting victim's legacy.

San Francisco police officials on Tuesday circulated pictures from surveillance footage of the suspect, who was seen wearing a blue vest with black and white striped pants. Officers out of Tenderloin Station arrested him later that day.

Howard-Kidd is being held in San Francisco Jail on $275,000 bail.

Evan Sernoffsky is a San Francisco Chronicle staff writer. Email: esernoffsky@sfchronicle.com Twitter: @EvanSernoffsky