What You Can Do to Stop Dark Money

Here are six ways YOU can help fight dark money.

Educate Yourself

Learn more about dark money in politics. Our partners at OpenSecrets.org (their Executive Director, Sheila Krumholz, appears in DARK MONEY) have put together the 101 you need.

Demand Disclosure

Wherever you live in this country, your state requires candidates, political parties and political action committees to provide SOME information about the amount and source of $$ coming in and being spent.

Learn what information YOUR state demands.

Speak up when you think your state's disclosure laws are being violated. Look at the flyers filling up your mailbox in the weeks leading up to an election. Are they making outrageous claims? Is it unclear who paid for the ad? Contact your state disclosure board and ask them to investigate. Speak up!

Fight attempts to weaken or eliminate disclosure laws. We need strong disclosure laws to expose dark money! Get involved in grassroots efforts to maintain existing disclosure laws and VOTE when the issue is on the ballot.

Help Pass the 28th Amendment

Get involved in efforts to pass a constitutional amendment that reasserts that "We the People" govern this country — and not big money.

Visit our partners at American Promise to learn what is happening in your state to pass the amendment and get involved.

Support Local Press

A free press is essential to a functioning democracy. We need a free press to hold our elected officials accountable.

Subscribe to your local paper.
