We have followed the money and built a record of evidence revealing how Joe Biden knew, was involved, and benefited from his family's influence peddling schemes.

The Department of Homeland Security partnered with Stanford University and other colleges to create a 'disinformation group' to censor speech leading up to the 2020 election, new emails reveal.

The Election Integrity Partnership (EIP) was created in July 2020, and consisted of members from the Stanford Internet Observatory, the University of Washington's Center for an Informed Public, Graphika, and the Atlantic Council's Digital Forensic Research Lab, according to a new report from the House Judiciary Committee and released Monday evening.

'[T]he federal government and universities pressured social media companies to censor true information, jokes, and political opinions,' the report said of the partnership.

Emails and internal communications obtained by the House Judiciary Committee show how the group worked to flag, censor and remove speech online.

'I know the Council has a number of efforts on broad policy around the elections, but we just set up an election integrity partnership at the request of DHS/CISA and are in weekly comms to debrief about disinfo,' the Atlantic Council's Digital Forensic Research Lab's senior director Graham Brookie wrote in an email.

Both a and b are correct. Not a poll worker and no ballots destroyed.

Hello again, wanted to follow up on a few points just to be crystal clear -- could you please confirm that (a) the worker in question is not a pollworker; or (b) that he did not, in fact, destroy ballots (or at least that there is no evidence that he destroyed ballots).

Would appreciate this clarity tremendously, thank you so much.

 The county has issued an official statement on the matter:

Other emails in the report show Scully communicated with Facebook to remove a post about the election that had been deemed misinformation

In September, federal appeals found that the Biden administration 'likely violated the First Amendment' by pressuring social media companies to scrub posts the White House deemed false or misleading.

In that case, known as Missouri v. Biden, Scully testified that switchboarding, the practice of flagging information, was 'CISA's role in forwarding reporting received from election officials ... to social media platforms,' said the report.

The Judiciary Committee found emails that showed months-long discussions between CISA and social media companies including Facebook and Twitter over a proposed misinformation portal.

CISA emails included a disclaimer that 'neither has nor seeks the ability to remove what information is made available on social media platforms.'

•

The report came from the House Judiciary Committee lead by chair Rep. Jim Jordan (R-Ohio)

•

The report said the effort was directed at Republicans and conservatives, including then presidential candidate Donald Trump

The report also said, 'there a number of university students involved with the EIP, at least four of the students were employed by CISA during the operation of EIP, using their government email accounts to communicate with CISA officials and other "external stakeholders" involved with the EIP.'

CISA Executive Director Brandon Wales told Fox News Digital the agency 'does not and has never censored speech or facilitated censorship.'

'Every day, the men and women of CISA execute the agency's mission of reducing risk to U.S. critical infrastructure in a way that protects Americans' freedom of speech, civil rights, civil liberties, and privacy.'

'In response to concerns from election officials of all parties regarding foreign influence operations and disinformation that may impact the security of election infrastructure, CISA mitigates the risk of disinformation by sharing information on election literacy and election security with the public and by amplifying the trusted voices of election officials across the nation,' Wales said.
